We remind you that PHILAS is unable to pay the vendor pending the outcome of any assessment.

All costs incurred for expert assessment are your responsibility, except that if expert opinion suggests that an item is not genuine, PHILAS will reimburse you one-half of any fee you paid for the assessment.

MICHAEL HIRSCHHORN'S PSNSW TRIVIA STAMP QUIZ

In the bottom corners of Britain's 1840 Penny Black, each stamp has two different letters, identifying the row and column of the plate from which it was printed. How many combinations are there?

A variation was prepared for use on official mail but not used, with constant letters in all four corners. What letters are in the top corners (the stamps are known by these letters)? What letters are in the bottom corners?

Name the second country to issue postage stamps valid throughout the country (thus ruling out Switzerland and the U.S.A.). What is the popular name of this first set? What are the denominations in this set? It is noteworthy that the different denominations were printed contiguously.

In 1847 Mauritius issued its first set of postage stamps. What were the denominations and colours? What inscription distinguishes that first set from the second? There is a unique cover bearing both stamps from the first issue. What is it called (named for the city to which it was addressed)?

In 1942 the valuable stamp collection of a woman was bequeathed to the Australian Museum. It is known by her name. Who was she? In the early 1980s, the collection was insured for what fraction of the insured value of the whole museum?

From the 1980s, the collection has been on loan to the Powerhouse Museum. Who was the curator until 2007 (a well-known philatelic author)?

In this collection there are two copies of what is probably Canada's most valuable stamp. What is its colour and denomination? Who is depicted on it?

In the same collection there are at least two copies of each of the two 4-cent stamps, of the same design as the unique 1-cent magenta stamp issued by British Guiana. What are their colours? How were they cancelled?

What is the popular name of the first set of postage stamps issued by New South Wales? What are the denominations and colours? The lowest and highest denominations were printed from square-shaped plates comprising how many cliches?

The middle value was printed in panes of 24 (12 by 2) with two panes to each sheet. We know this because of the existence of a unique pair on cover, comprising one stamp from each pane separated by a gutter. What is special about this pair? For what sum in 1995 was it last sold?

In some old printed albums for Stamps of the World, we find the stamps of Hawaii listed on a page between the pages for New South Wales and Queensland. Why?

Stamps in the first set from Hawaii are called the 'frilly-bordered numerals', to distinguish them from the later so-called 'plain-bordered numerals'. What is the colloquial name for the set? What are the three different denominations of the four stamps in the set?

These stamps sometimes were cancelled in red ink in a speckled pattern. How was this done?

One of the few covers bearing stamps from this set, the 'Dawson' cover, was found singed. What were the circumstances which caused this?

Because Britain was the first country to issue postage stamps, it took upon itself the privilege of not including its name on its stamps. However, some stamps of Hawaii also do not have the country's name, as do some issued by the U.S.A., in particular a set issued in 1920, inscribed "[????????] Tercentenary". What word, beginning with 'P', identifies the country of issue?

Whose portraits are on the first two postage stamps issued by the U.S.A.? What are their denominations? What is inscribed across the top of these stamps, issued in 1847, the same year as the first stamps of Mauritius?

These questions have mentioned two of the most valuable philatelic items. Provide one more example.
